ORGANIZATIONS

President Teri Snyder serves the punch.

Welcoming in those who are honorable . . .

National Honor Society

SENIOR MEMBERS included Julie Buck, Secretary Jenny Chesnut, Christina Hesterberg, David Foster, Vice-President Sara Pflugmacher, Mitchell Schluter, President Teri Snyder and Treasurer Mark Youmans.

JUNIOR MEMBERS were Paula Basham, Laura Frerichs, Gail Hoveltn, Ginger Hunt and Todd Park.

SOPHOMORE MEMBERS initiated were Holly Clingan, Jim Huls, Peggy Frerichs, Rhonda Parrish and Lisa Piatt. NHS ADVISOR was Genny Roberts.

New members await their turn at lighting candles.

Yearbook Staff

In addition to the three above, the yearbook staff included Becky Severs, Tammy Teeslink, Wendy Remington, Ginger Hunt, Editor Teresa Teeslink, and Peggy Frerichs.

Being the editor of any kind of newspaper or yearbook is a big responsibility. There has to be a lot of organization, co-operation and dedication from everyone on the staff. There are deadlines to be met; a ladder figured out; pictures taken and developed; colors, themes, and cover designs chosen; layouts designed and drawn up; copy written, proofread, rewritten and typed; the worry of who or what may have been left out; and finally what surprise the printers have in store!

There is the anticipation of how it all will turn out, but in the end, there will be a great sense of accomplishment from knowing everyone helped to create a pleasant book of memories to cherish in the years to come.

Working on the yearbook this year has been a lot of fun for myself, and I would like to make a personal note of thanks to Miss Bohlen for all of her constant help and prodding! Also, the Student Council and all students who sold pizzas to contribute to the yearbook fund deserve a special thank you.

I hope you will all enjoy this year's memories we have recorded for you!

Teresa Teeslink

Student Council members included in the first row are Jenny Chesnut, Wendy Remington, Gail Hoveltn, Rhonda Parrish, and Holly Clingan. In the second row are Lori Cler, Tammy Knight, Julie Buck, Angela Blackford, Lisa Piatt, Peggy Frerichs, Teri Snyder, Sara Pflugmacher, and Advisor Mr. Stagen. In the third row are Phil Davis, Jim Hannagan, Leroy Schluter, Brian Loschen, Randall Zindars, Todd Park, Bryan Schluter, Neil Buck, and Kevin Frerichs.

Officers included Treasurer Holly Clingan, Co-Presidents Gail Hoveltn and Teri Snyder, Sponsor Mr. Stagen, Reporter Peggy Frerichs and Secretary Sara Pflugmacher.

Student Council

Starting with the election of co-presidents for this year, the Student Council initiated several changes in 1984. A final addition was a last dance given at the end of the school year. Seen attending it are Teresa Teeslink, Wendy Pruiett, and Sara Pflugmacher.

Those who attended the annual convention in Chicago included Tammy Knight, Wendy Remington, Leroy Schluter, Angela Blackford and Todd Park.

Assisting the juggler—a performer in one of the Student Council assemblies—below are Andrew Dewey, Lori Cler, and Sara Pflugmacher. At the right, expert jugglers Mr. Copas and Mrs. Roberts also help out!

New advisor Sharon Flesher led the FHA into several fun and beneficent projects this year. A food drive at Christmas and an "Adopted Senior Citizen" campaign were initiated to promote community sharing and understanding. Other of the many events included the annual dances with the FFA, a shopping trip, a Christmas party, a volleyball tournament, the convention in Springfield, and the spring banquet, shown at left.

In line for goodies at the banquet . . .

FHA

The irresistible Steve Vermillion is crowned.

To record all the annual activities of the FFA would require a whole separate yearbook! Suffice it to say that again this year, everyone involved in the Armstrong Chapter, especially Sponsor Robin Harlan, kept quite busy. Some of the dozens of contests or events included the State Convention with David Foster and Mark Youmans as delegates, the Georgetown Fair in which Laura Frerichs and John Laflen received 10 or more "A" ratings, the National Convention which Alan, Tracy, Jim and Steve attended, the Annual Banquet, and the Sadie Hawkins and Sweetheart Dances with the FHA. Armstrong teams placed first in the Ag. Mechanics, Land Use Selection and Parliamentary Procedure Contests.

This year the FFA week included Truck/Car and ATC Days, the Annual Petting Zoo, the FFA/Faculty Game (finally, the FFA won! 18-12) and a Teacher Appreciation Day during which sixteen faculty cars were washed. Quite a busy year indeed!

The officers are pictured above. Below, sponsor Mr. Harlan is first, followed by members Todd P., Reproter Mitchell S., President Mark Y., Vice President David F., John G., Kyle W., Sentinel Jim V., Treasurer Randall Z., Secretary Brian L., Laura F., Teresa T., Mark S., Rick S., Steve V., Tim K., Brian E., Leroy S., John L., Parliamentarian Phil D., Kevin F., David H., Alan D., Craig W., Chaplain Steve W., Tracy S., Scott C., Ted V., Jim H., and Brad L.

FFA

Brian and Mark take the cake!

And here's the line-up . . .

And more just desserts—Mr. and Mrs. Harlan receive gifts!

STATION of TREASURER

F.F.A. stands for "Finest Food of All"!

Who's the Pro?

Spanish Club

In addition to its usual activities, this year the Spanish Club had guest speaker Mrs. Cornelius, history instructor from D.A.C.C., enlighten the group about Mexico. The club also furthered awareness about Spanish-speaking countries by donating many books to the library. Thank you, Spanish Club!

Officers included Advisor Miss Street, President Kevin Frerichs, Secretary Theresa Hamilton, Treasurer Lisa Lee, and Vice-President Mary Early.

Library Club

Find Yourself in Books!

Read, Read, Read!

Those who helped keep track of all our reading material this year were Lisa Lee, Becky Severs, Jay Adkins, David Bice, Randy Ross, Mrs. Miller and sitting, Chris Ross.

Those who kept things running smoothly in the office were Andrew Dewey, Secretary Betty Tucker, Christina Hesterberg, Teresa Teeslink, Tracy Scheurich, Tammy Teeslink, Ginger Hunt and Brian Loschen. Seated at her desk is Secretary Betty Kinney.

Keeping Busy In the Office

Betty Tucker offers instruction to Ginger Hunt who served as secretary during the Student Council Student Teacher Day.

Four years of daily walking up the path to Armstrong High's front door may seem like a long time to the typical student here, but that's not much at all compared to how long Secretary Betty Kinney has made those steps! For over thirty years now, Betty has faithfully given her time and talents to keep Armstrong Township High School going strong. Everyone who has attended or dealt with this school in those thirty years has her to thank in many ways for her behind-the-scenes and often, up-front efforts. And that's a lot of thanks!

Betty is most often seen busy clicking away at her adding machine or typewriter—the fastest fingers in the Midwest!

*Thank You,
Betty!*

Betty has every right to proudly display the plaque given to her by the Armstrong Board of Education at a dinner held in her honor, celebrating her thirty years of dedicated and efficient work at Armstrong High.

Band and Chorus

Band members included Dawn Brooks, Cindy Hesterberg, Rhonda Parrish, and Christina Hesterberg. Second row: Bryan Schluter, Walter Layton, Teresa Teeslink, Paula Basham and Lisa Piatt. Third row: Director Mrs. Huls, Chris Ross and Scott Cropper. Below, chorus members included, seated, Teresa Teeslink and Paula Basham. Standing are Lori Sage, Rhonda Parrish, Julie Buck, Denise Buck, Laura Frerichs, Rhonda Bohlen, Lisa Piatt, Gail Hovel, Christina Hesterberg, and Mrs. Huls. Third row: Cindy Hesterberg, Chris Ross, Scott Cropper, Walter Layton, and Angela Blackford.

Band director and teacher Michael Richardson, seated, finished up the school year and held a triumphant spring concert at which these pictures were taken.

Gail Hovel soloed like a pro!

The band and chorus played beautifully in front of a demanding audience!

Sweethearts Dance!

And you have to carry me too so I don't get my new sneakers dirty.

Jackie and Sandra don't just let things slide by!

Brad isn't ready to "re-tire" yet!

Cindy chugs along with the gang.

Tim oscillates in his electronic interests.

Julie takes heart in her duties.

Vicki doesn't mind this dirty job.

Linda creates flowers the new way.

Life at Votec

Brian gets serious with some mean machines.

And David gives flowers to his teacher??

Leroy becomes historical while Mitch gets his numbers straight.

Brian seeks help from IA instructor John.

Paula keeps books, and Denise goes over English.

A prime Student Council goal is to encourage communication and understanding for everyone in school. Having students experiment with their own teaching skills during Student Council week allows for just that—and some fun, too! Who knows? Maybe some day one of those “pretend teachers” just might come back to ATHS as the real thing!

Another Miss Bohlen for English!

A Day to Switch Roles

Student Teachers

David reviews his lesson plans in Mr. Harlan's place.

This year's homecoming schedule change met with havoc as the cold December winds blew away an Armstrong victory. Tireless Trojans fought valiantly against their new opponents, the Red Devils of Cissna Park, but the final outcomes were 42-70 for the Varsity and 44-73 for the JV players. A new challenge awaits next year, and our boys will be ready!

Brian is surrounded by red jerseys!

Seniors Try to Get Serious!

In the order of their appearance above, some 1984 seniors speak out about their impressions, memories, and time during their four-year stay at Armstrong High.

Christina Hesterberg felt that her attendance at the 1984 All-State Chorus in Springfield was the most impressionable occurrence during her senior year. She will miss the "great and caring faculty" and practical jokes shared with Mark and David. Her advice to new seniors: "Don't forget you're still a student. You're no different from anyone else."

Kris "Buckwheat" Dearth (a.k.a. "Bubbles") felt breaking her ankle and relying on crutches was not the best time as a senior, but her friends, parties and becoming a cheerleader helped her through any hard times. Her advice: "Lay back and relax. This is your last year; live it up!"

Lori "Ernie" Cler didn't care for her freshman year but remembered her senior year as the one in which she became engaged to Mike Pflugmacher. She enjoyed Homecoming '83 the best and knew she'll miss her friends the most after graduating. She felt seniors should: "Make everything special and make it last."

Jenny "Smurf" Chestnut enjoyed being a senior because "being at The Top gives authority." She realized she'll miss her friends and their jokes, too. "There's a lot of great people in this school. Work hard the first three quarters so you can goof off the last quarter!"

Julie "Never Say Die" Buck stated she'll miss playing ball, all her "friends, and the closeness of the teachers and staff." She thought that "having a good team but never being able to win a tournament," however, was the greatest frustration in school. Her advice: "The crowd does not always know the right way. And don't put off what you can do today because time is too short."

Her friends and the anticipation of graduation made Teresa "Teets" Teeslink's senior year a memorable one. She valued the laughs, the good and even bad times, but especially the extra-curricular activities (including parties!). "Make the best of your last year; hold onto your memories and enjoy yourself."

Teri "Tailord" Snyder was proud of being accepted into the University of Illinois her senior year. She'll miss the friendly atmosphere and people of ATHS and will hold fond memories of the many activities in which she participated. Her advice: "Make every minute of your final year count for it goes faster than you could ever realize."

Pranks and parties were what Wendy Pruiett valued most as a senior. She'll miss her classmates and some teachers. Her advice was unprintable but its meaning approximated: "Have a good time!"

Sara Pflugmacher had no comments available.

Kyle Williams will remember the Michael Jackson craze of 1984 and will miss his friends when his senior days are ended. Unlike many who felt their freshman year was the hardest, Kyle thought his junior year was the most frustrating. "Do the best you can in your classes, but make sure to have fun also."

David Foster, Jim Vermillion, Brian Loschen, and John Laflen had no comments.

Craig Wilber more or less advised, "Have fun!"

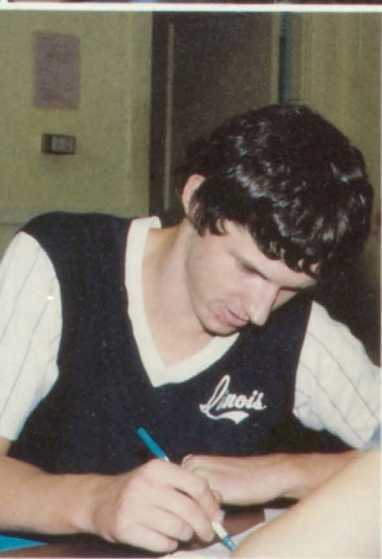

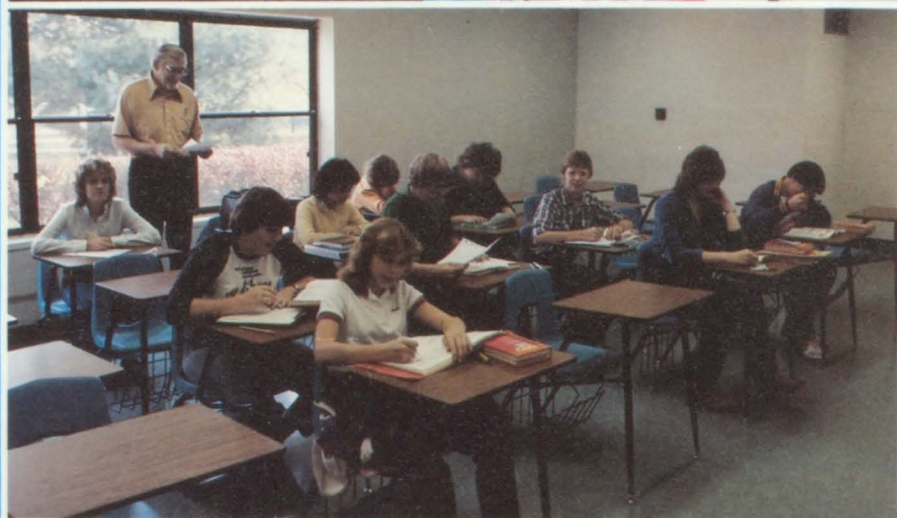

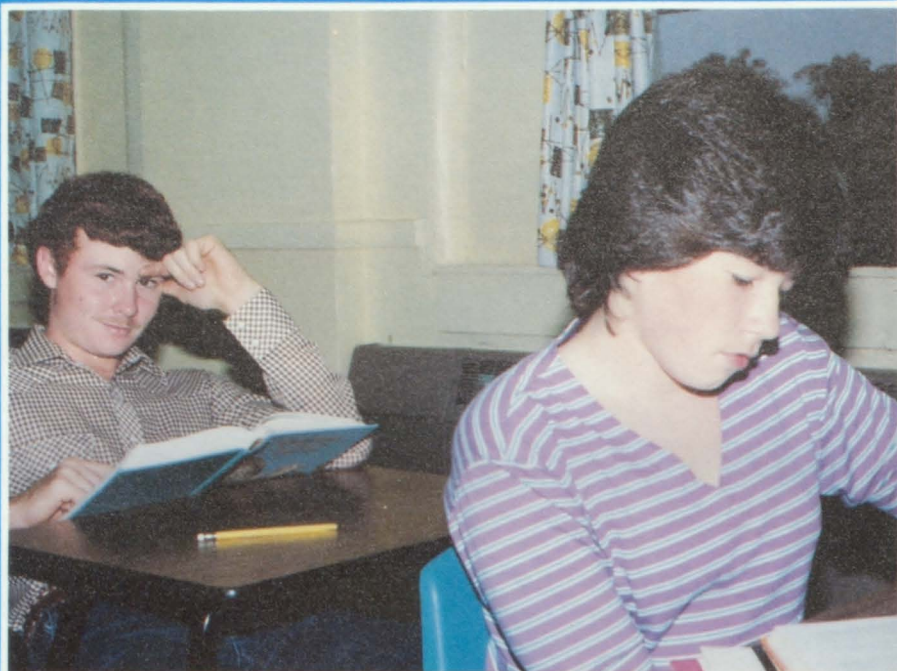

Mark Youmans gave no advice, but Mitchell Schluter offered, "Make your own path because the others are too worn." Mitch was proud of his basketball team and the friendships and respect he earned throughout his years at ATHS.

Andrew "If Life Were a Highway, I'd Be a Pothole" Dewey enjoyed keeping score at the girls' games during his senior year. He'll miss the time spent in activities and with friends but not the frustration of trying to get homework done. His words of wisdom: "Live every day as if it was your last."

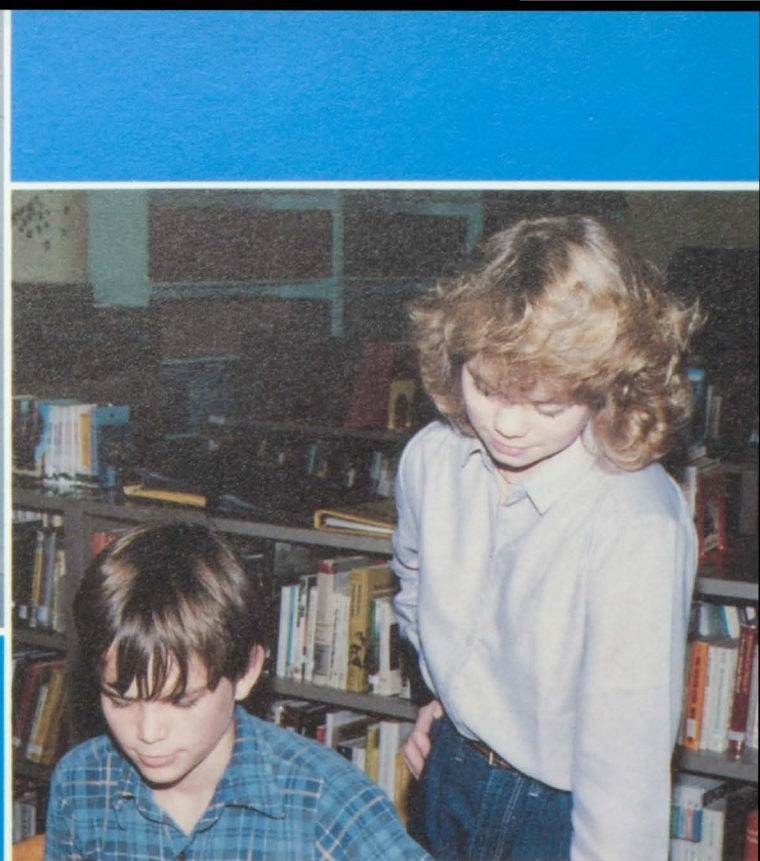

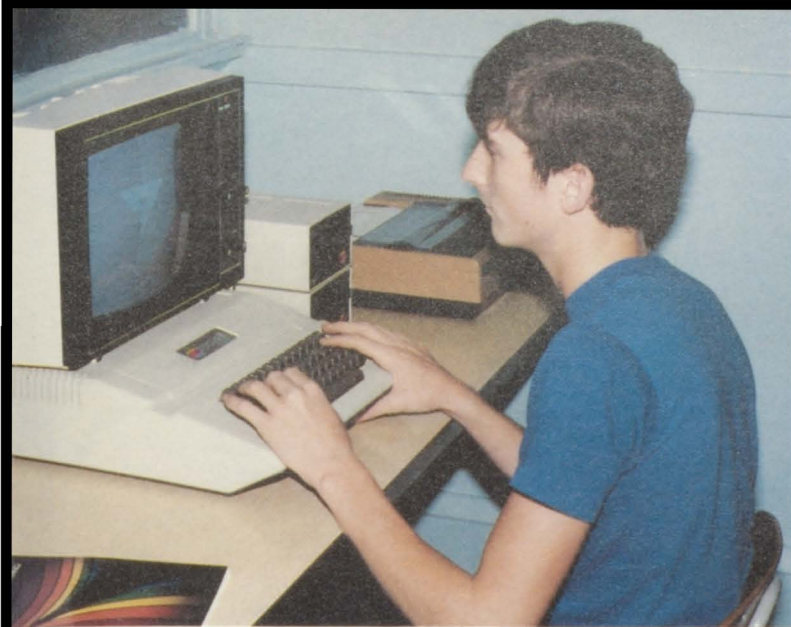

Not pictured were John "I Forgot" Rose, who will miss Votec and his friends and who advised, "Just be crazy but don't get lazy!"; Sandra "Tater" Early, who was happiest at the return of her friend Jackie and who will miss "the family atmosphere with friends and teachers," Votec and school dances; and Jackie "Special K" Keen, who spent her first semester as a senior in Danville and knew she'd miss the kids she grew up with. She advised: "Try everything you can and have a variety of friends."

Thus end the words of wisdom from the 1984 Armstrong seniors! Good luck to them!

The first glorious day of true springtime, Saturday, April 28, was filled with sunshine and high hopes, and ended with a beautiful, exciting evening for prom-goers who ventured to the Round Barn Restaurant in Champaign. Dancing and listening to the music of the Knightrider Band followed a great meal, after which the wills and prophecy were read. Thanks to the prom committee headed by Joanne Tate, everyone enjoyed another perfect day and perfect night!

Prophecy for the Class of '84

The Loschen's Longhorn Dude Ranch was the site for the Class of '84's 15th year reunion. Everyone came at the special invitation of Wendy (Pruiett) Burger, who hams it up ever since marrying the famous fast food restaurant owner last year. She was the first to arrive so she could meat everyone for dinner!

Most of the class members traveled by air. Some used their private Jets, like President of TTAA (Toy Tractor Association of America) Mark Youmans and wife Teresa. Others used the Highfliers' Jet Service piloted by J.A. Dewey, whose flight attendant was Jackie Keen. When asked if they liked their job, they giggled. "DEWEY ever! We love to fly the friendly skies!" Andrew replied. "Yeah, man, we're really KEEN on it!" said Jackie.

They were interviewed by Christina Hesterberg, the editor of a new magazine Woman on the Farm. Being handy with pen and paper, she took the opportunity to jot down the sweeping words of Jim Vermillion, who was bragging of his success in the Hoover Vacuum Industry. After a few short years, he was promoted to the honorable position of Best Demonstrator. "It's a dirty job, but someone has to do it!"

Those who used the Highfliers' Jet Service landed at the Early Bird Airport owned and operated by Sandra Early. They were driven to the Ranch by Jenny Chesnut's Luxurious Escort Service.

Among some of the early arrivers were Kyle and Steve Williams, Associates of the Williams' and Williams' Animal Clinic and Boutique. It was coincidental that Steve, the most famous cattle curer in the Mid-West, was there to aid Loschen's Longhorns. The Moo-Moo epidemic was sweeping the Western Plains. Brian informed Steve that his cattle were ill and in desperate need of his professional care. After peering everywhere, Steve yelled, "Well, where's the beef?"

Since not everyone came on planes—some drove their cars—the expert and quick parking ability of David Foster was needed. (Of course, everyone knows how adept David is in getting out of tight spots in cars.) "Where're the keys?" David yelled as he headed toward the cars. The first car to receive David's service was a pink Cadillac owned by Mitchell Kay Cosmetics. Mitch Schluter decided to make-up for lost time as a bank teller by making his own money out of his mother's beauty salon. (He wanted a permanent fortune!) One of his most frequent customers, Teri Snyder, was chauffeured in her own limousine. Teri, who is now the first woman president of the University of Illinois, even had her own motorcycle cop, Craig Wilber, escort her to this event.

By the time everyone found accomodations and settled in, it was time for Happy Hour! Drinks were on the house—courtesy of Freeman's Western Division Tavern. Behind the bar serving the beverages was Sara Pflugmacher, recently nominated as Barmate of the Year. Sara began her career early by the experience she gained at the main branch in Royal, Illinois.

During the course of the evening, the entertainment was provided by David "Dick" Davis. He was now a professional comedian/juggler and had assisted Bob Copas in many shows. As an intermission to David's act, awards were given away. The award for the most kids was accepted for Lori Cler Pflugmacher by her friend Wendy Burger. Lori was unable to make her appearance because she was back in Diaperville, Illinois, awaiting the near arrival of her 16th child. Lori was happy to hear her prize was, ironic enough, a free pizza from Domino's (because everyone knows that with every pizza—you receive free delivery)! That was a relief to head nurse Julie Buck of the VOTEC General Hospital who helped deliver the rest of Lori's gang.

The next prize was a free tatoo—given by the John Rose Artistic Shop. For the longest distance traveled, the award was given to Sumo wrestler John Laflen, who flew in all the way from Japan. John chose a tatoo of a full-scale flaming Camaro. He was looking for his old friend Teresa Teeslink. "Where's the Teets?" he yelled. Teresa, who held the position as bouncer at Freeman's, came bounding through the crowd, pointing at the sign above the door which read, "NO shirts, NO briefs, NO service!!" She said loudly to John, who was clad only in his scanty sumo suit held up by a funny long belt, "Where's the briefs?" Teresa, a law abiding employee, bounced her old schoolmate right out of the room, singing, "I'll bounce you back where you belong!" This incident soon broke up the party and everyone scattered to rest from a busy day.

The following day was filled with horse-back riding, a hamburger roast, and various activities. Everyone soon departed after a fun-filled weekend. As Brian and his workers were cleaning after their guests, they heard someone come in. It was Kris Dearth, who had driven all the way from Danville after getting her dad's permission, and she was late as usual! She found no one and left disappointed, saying, "I don't think there's anybody back there—I really don't!"

Where There's a Will, There's a Wave!

I, LORI CLER, being of loud mouth and sound body, will my ability both to eat AND talk the whole 40 minutes of lunch to Wendy Remington.

I, KRIS DEARTH, being of sound mind and body, will to Lisa Lee my ability to break bones and also my health insurance to help pay expenses.

I, ANDREW DEWEY, will my small ego to Jim Hannagan and my sharp-looking beast of a Gremlin to my good friend Alan Duden.

I, WENDY PRUIETT, being of sound mind and wrecked car, will my ability to drive safely to Ginger Hunt.

I, TERI SNYDER, being of sound mind and body, will my unique laugh to Gail Hoveltn.

I, JACKIE KEEN, will my unpredictability and outgoing personality to Brad Martin. (Have fun, Brad!).

I, STEVE WILLIAMS, will my tiny ego to David Hood and Leroy Schluter, and my Charles Atlas body to Alan Duden.

I, SARA PFLUGMACHER, will to my dear friend John Laflen the exact directions to the right bathroom.

I, JOHN LAFLEN, will my wild women in Potomac to Andrew and my party ability to Tim Knight.

I, MARK YOUMANS, will my spotless, well-lighted, clean truck to the Ross Brothers.

I, JOHN ROSE, will Mr. Bezely's counsumer ads and tax forms to anyone who wants them.

I, CHRISTINA HESTERBERG, will my fast typing fingers to Lisa Lee.

I, JENNY CHESNUT, will my sister Linda to Vicki Collins so that she may continue to add to her education.

I, CRAIG WILBER, will my ability to tick off teachers to Gail Hoveltn, and my notorious attitude and big mouth to Jim Huls.

I, MITCHELL SCHLUTER, will my ability to go through two new car engines in less than a year to Jim Hannagan and my near perfect hair style to Alan Duden.

I, KYLE WILLIAMS, will my bushy head of hair to David Hood.

I, DAVID FOSTER, will my curly hair to Mr. Wise who truly needs it, and my ability to massacre a car to Tim Knight.

I, DAVID DAVIS, will my superior juggling ability to Mr. Harlan.

I, SANDRA EARLY, will my boarding house to anyone who needs it.

I, JIM VERMILLION, will my four cherished years of dreadful English to Darren Wilken.

I, BRIAN LOSCHEN, will my basketball ability to John Gordon, my ability to skip school to Jim Huls, also my parking spot at school to Vicki Collins.

I, JULIE BUCK, will my ability to swing on the third strike to my sister Denise and my athletic ability to Linda Chesnut.

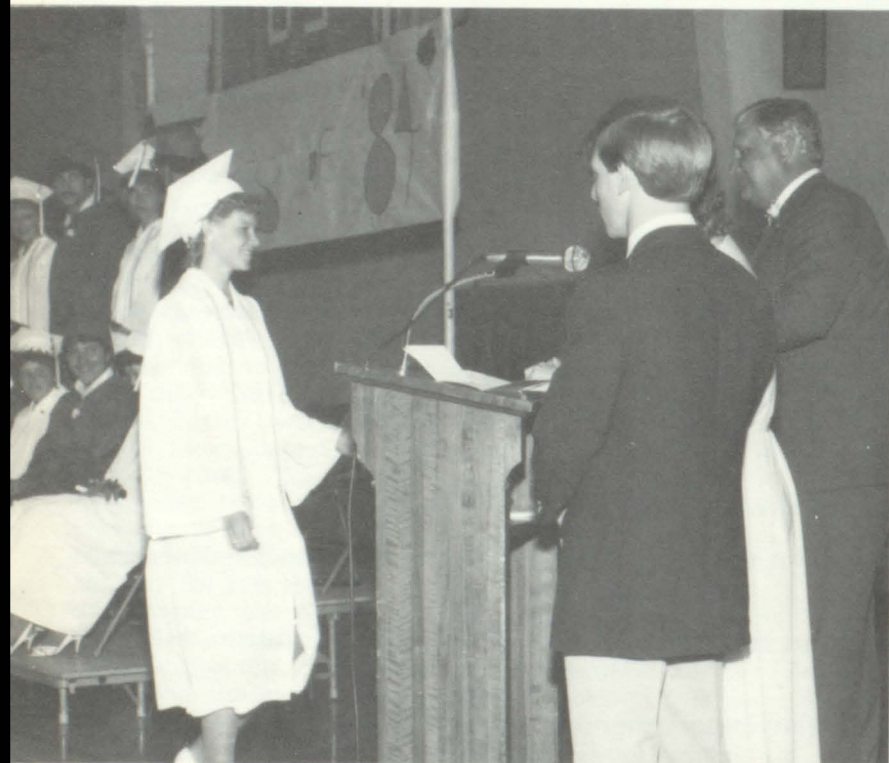

I, TERESA TEESLINK, will my ability to say and do anything I want and still come out on top to my sister Tammy and Ginger Hunt.

Graduation: A New Era

A happy day for all who approach

Salutatorian Christina Hesterberg

The gymnasium atmosphere is a creation of various moods: tension, pride, and then a feeling of ease. As the first sounds of "Pomp and Circumstance" echo throughout the gym, all voices are calmed to an almost dead silence. With heads held high and feet in rhythm to the march, the performers appear before their audience. This is the Armstrong Class of 1984!

Graduation begins a new era for each senior. Beginning on May 27, 1984, he will experience many decisions, difficult responsibilities, and a new freedom. His decisions will be extremely important for they will affect the remainder of his life. Not only will he be burdened with never-ending decisions, but he will also inherit new responsibilities. He will be responsible for his own actions; no longer will he be able to rely upon his parents for support. It is the time for him to open the door and take the first steps into the world as an independent person.

Although he is beginning a new chapter in the book of life, he is also closing an old one that has been very rewarding. He will be leaving behind many valuable friendships. He is aware that he will be making new ties; however, the old bonds will forever remain in his heart. It is these ties that allowed him to progress into the person he became on graduation day.

High school will be in the past, but nothing can fade the memories he has gathered and stored in the back of his mind. He cannot lose the memory of the accomplishments nor the incidents that have occurred.

The most lingering memory he will possess is that of graduation itself. May 27, 1984—a day dedicated to the senior class, the Armstrong Class of '84. What will he feel like? Satisfied? Relaxed? Terrified? He does not know yet, but he is sure that in ten years, he will remember how he felt on that special day.

Although graduation is a time to be with his class as a whole, it is also a time to gather memories which will replace the many friends, teachers, and activities he will be leaving behind. This is the point at which he must say farewell and start a new cycle. Within this cycle, he will have new friends, activities, decisions, and responsibilities. However, he will have the freedom to make individual choices and duties. He now closes the door to high school and meets the new era—his era.

—The words belong to graduating senior Jenny Chesnut; the sentiments, to the Class of '84!

Graduates Jim and David confer that it all really happened!

*Best of Luck
to the Class of '84!*
